

P & B Trucking

Decatur, Indiana, USA

Rust Bullet was applied to 50,000 square feet of heavily corroded metal roofs at P & B Trucking Company in Decatur, Indiana. The roofs were in very bad shape with a lot of stage three rust, the worst kind.

Professional applicators applied three coats of Rust Bullet to achieve a dry film thickness of 12 mils. The project was completed in four days using one airless sprayer that powered two spray guns.

Total cost to preserve these corrugated steel roofs with Rust Bullet's Superior Patented Technology was far less than the cost of replacing them.
